

Gain more than an extra hour in bed

The clocks went back this weekend, and despite the sunny weather sweeping across the UK in recent weeks, summer is now truly over. This means only one thing ... Christmas is coming, the geese are getting fat (along with a few others of us!) – and the shops will hopefully be heaving with consumers seeking the latest gifts and decorations to celebrate the festive season.

Last year over 5,000 retailers and buyers visited Harrogate Christmas & Gift and many exhibitors reported their best show. This would suggest that there will be some fantastic products out in the high streets (and garden centres this year). Many of these companies – plus lots of new ones – return to the 2019 show which takes place from 13th to 16th January. This is a ‘must attend’ event for anyone in the festive and gift industries – attendance is free. Register online at www.harrogatefair.com

Creative Christmas colourways

With 2019 fast approaching, Premier Decorations looks forward to presenting eight fabulous new Christmas colour stories with traditional elements to inspire the British market and Christmas lovers everywhere.

Rose Gold has been a prominent on the colour palette, but next year, it has been enhanced with soft pinks, champagne and creams to give a truly feminine feel to the Winter Rose story. In addition, whilst the mood is homely and warm, Premier’s rustic Chalet de Noel theme gives a cosy winter by the fireside feeling. Christmas Fiesta is a riot of colour where anything goes, in this bright eclectic mix of fun story.

Embracing the fun and quirky elements of the festive season, don’t miss the cute ‘No Prob-llamas’ and ‘Merry Slothmas’ characters, alongside magical ever-popular unicorns, and typically British Puddings are one of the many capsule collections in Premier’s range this year.
