

Don't forget to pre-register

With over 40 brand new exhibitors at Harrogate Christmas & Gift this year, even regular visitors can look forward to seeing exciting new product ranges which are guaranteed to tempt their customers throughout 2018.

Among the trees and tinsel, don't miss some fabulous gift ranges from candles and aromatherapy products, floral displays, food and drink ranges, leather and glass products and even cuddly hot water bottles!

A full exhibitor list and product search can be found on the website at www.harrogatefair.com – and if you haven't already, or have new colleagues attending for the first time, don't forget to pre-register online to save time when you arrive at the show.

Finally – don't forget to book your tickets for The Big Night Out on Sunday 14th at the Old Swan. This is a not-to-be-missed event! Book tickets HERE.

Touch of dolce vita

Peg Perego, Italy's stylish toy and nursery brand, is bringing its range of premium battery operated ride-on toys to Harrogate this year from John Deere licensed farm vehicles, 4x4 off roaders, scramblers, motorbikes, scooters and even a fantastic little train for budding drivers.

Established by Giuseppe Perego in the early 1960s with plastic pedal toy cars, the company's toy business really took off with the introduction of its first battery operated toys in 1970. The business now distributes quality products in over 100 countries, whilst still holding firm to its family values.

'LED'ing the way

Products embellished with LED remain extremely on trend and Joe Davies has some fantastic new designs to maximise this launching at the show. The Christmas Happy LED Plaques collection is one such addition, consisting of traditional Santa and snowman designs on modern wooden plaques with exquisite LED décor. Retail price points start at just £7.99 and all products are available in trademark 'little and often' quantities with carriage paid orders of just £100 and with deliveries as per your requirements. With over 1000+ on trend gift and home décor items on display and the best customer service (15 times Progressive Gifts Great award winners) Joe Davies should be on every buyers must visit list.

Personal adventure

A Trip to the North Pole is a colour Me Adventure, personalised story and activity book, that all children will love. This superb Christmas story in which every child who reads it is the star of their own visit to Santa. The child's name appears regularly throughout the story and the interactive roles include colouring-in, games and puzzles.
